CAPTAIN VIDEO AND HIS VIDEO RANGERS

with

AL HODGE

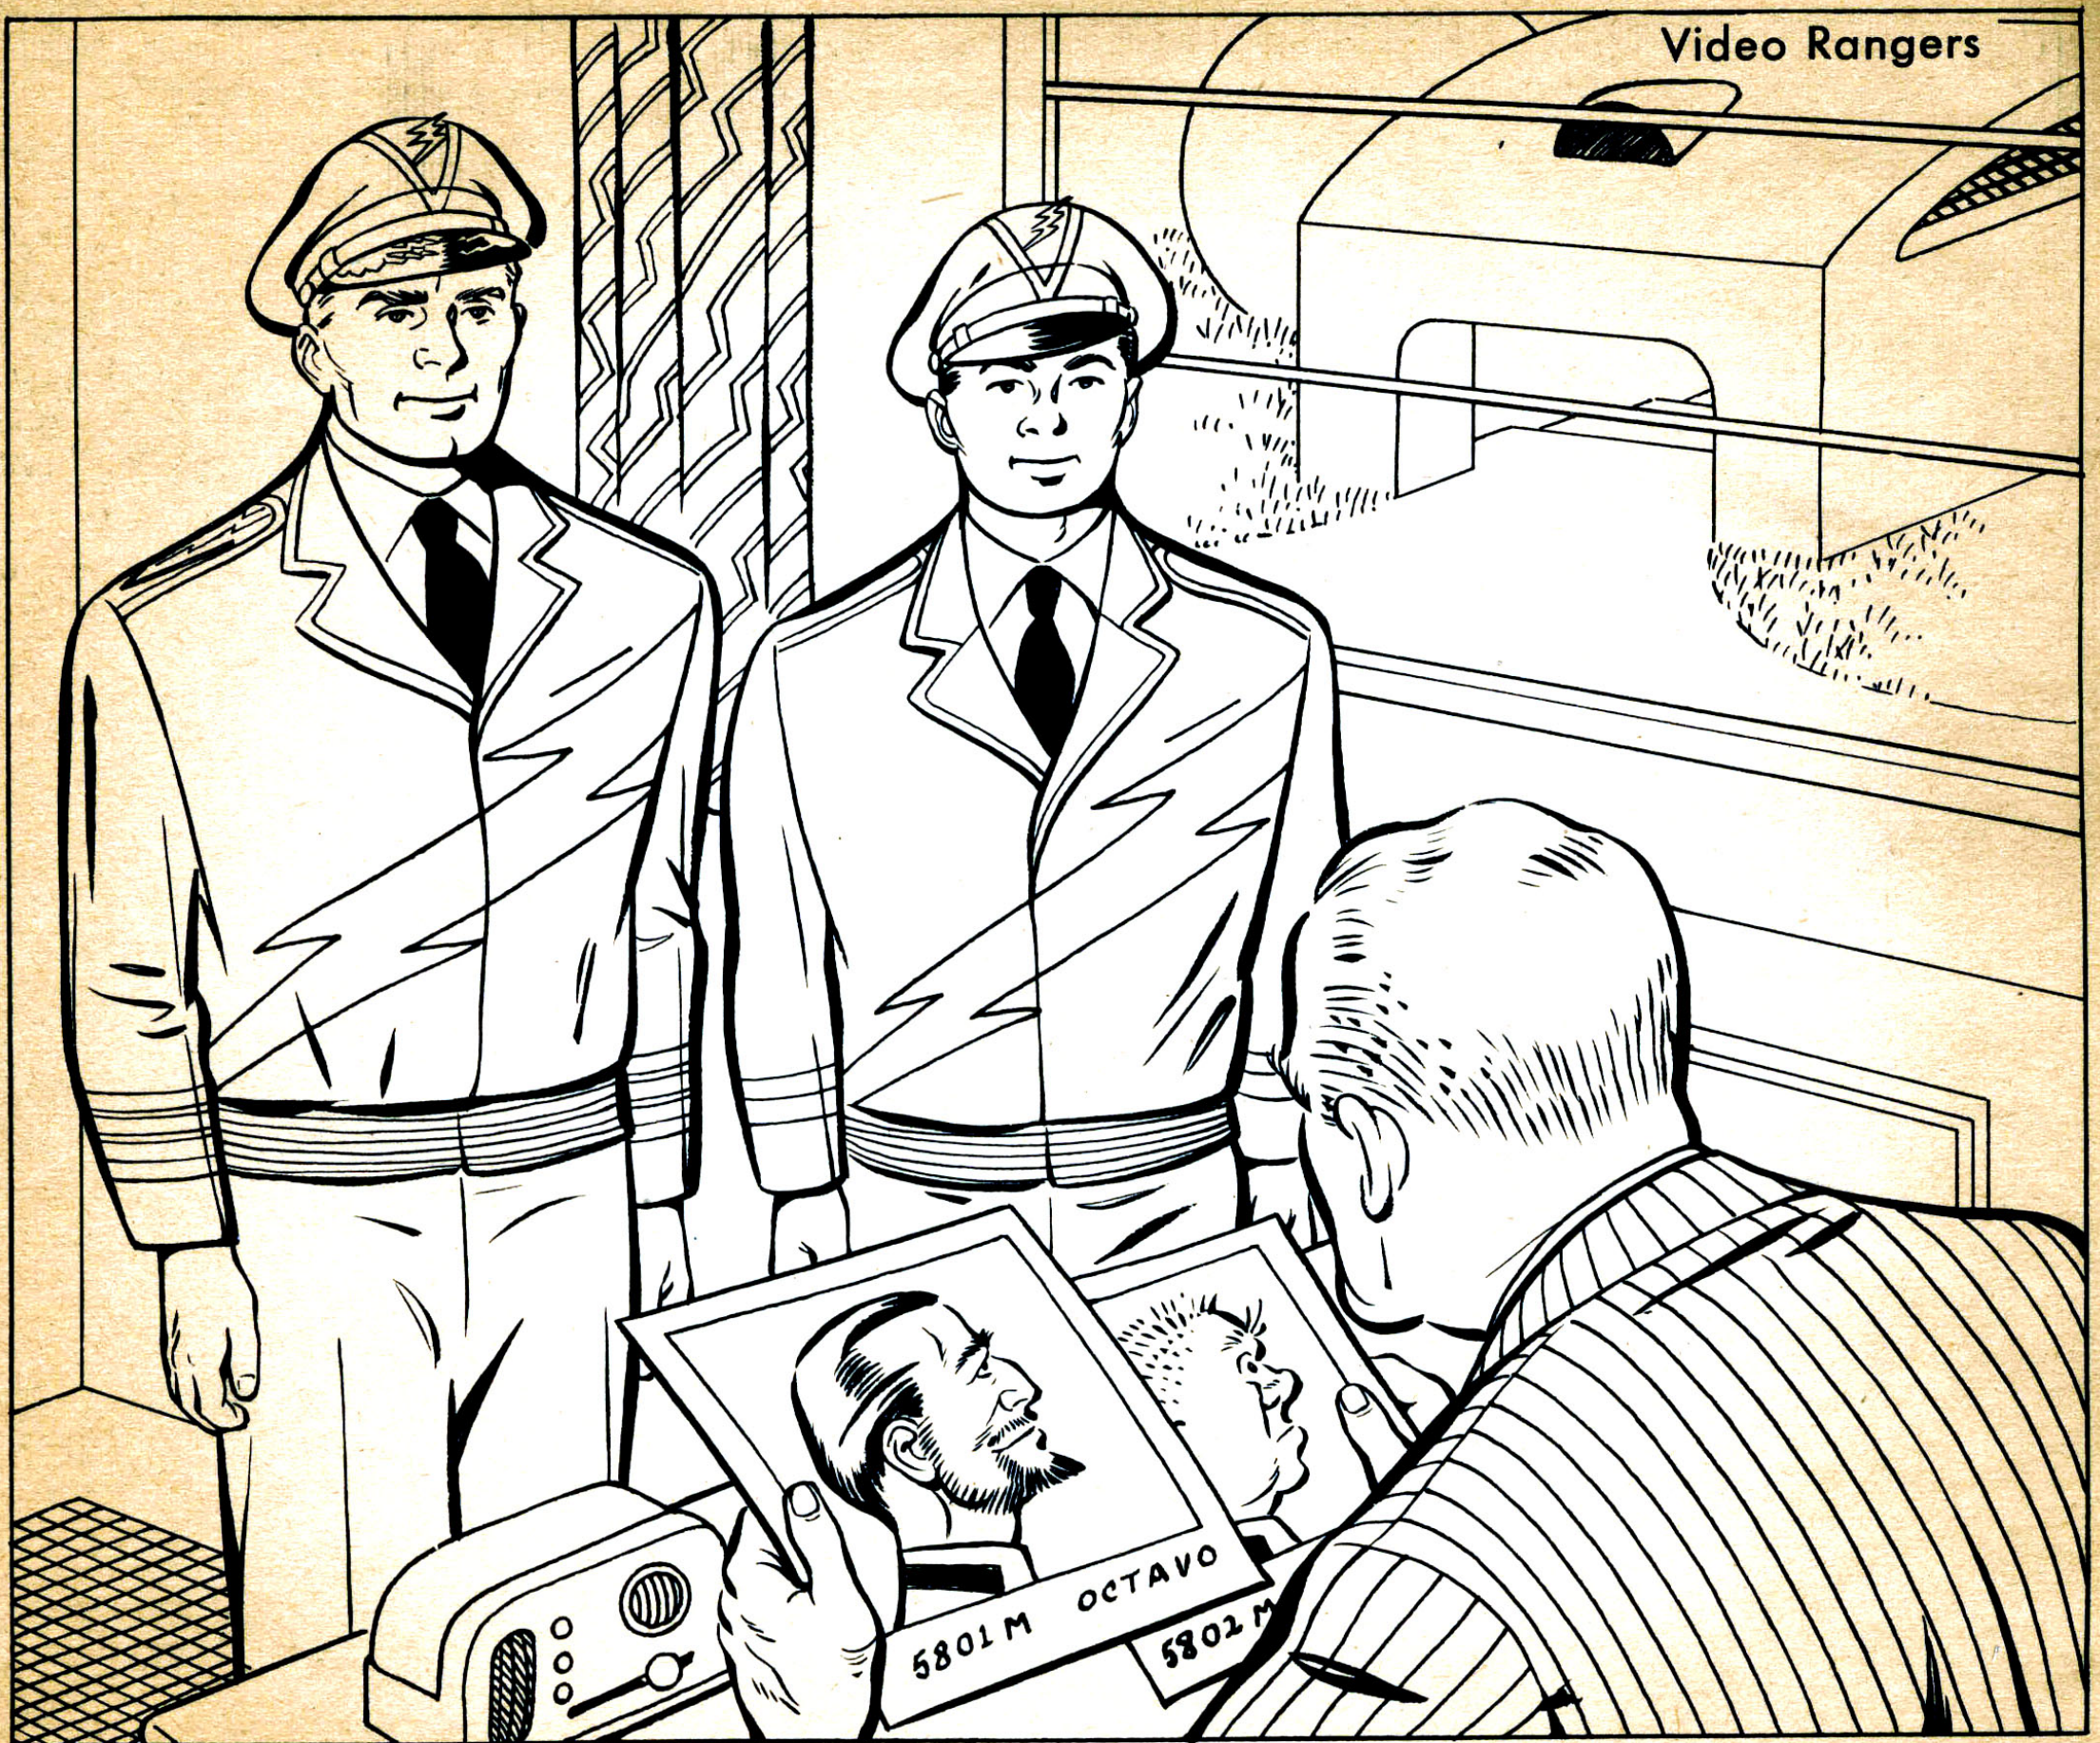

the original "Captain Video"
of the TV show
and Don Hastings
as the Video Ranger

Based on a story by Milton Lesser

Produced by Steven R. Carlin

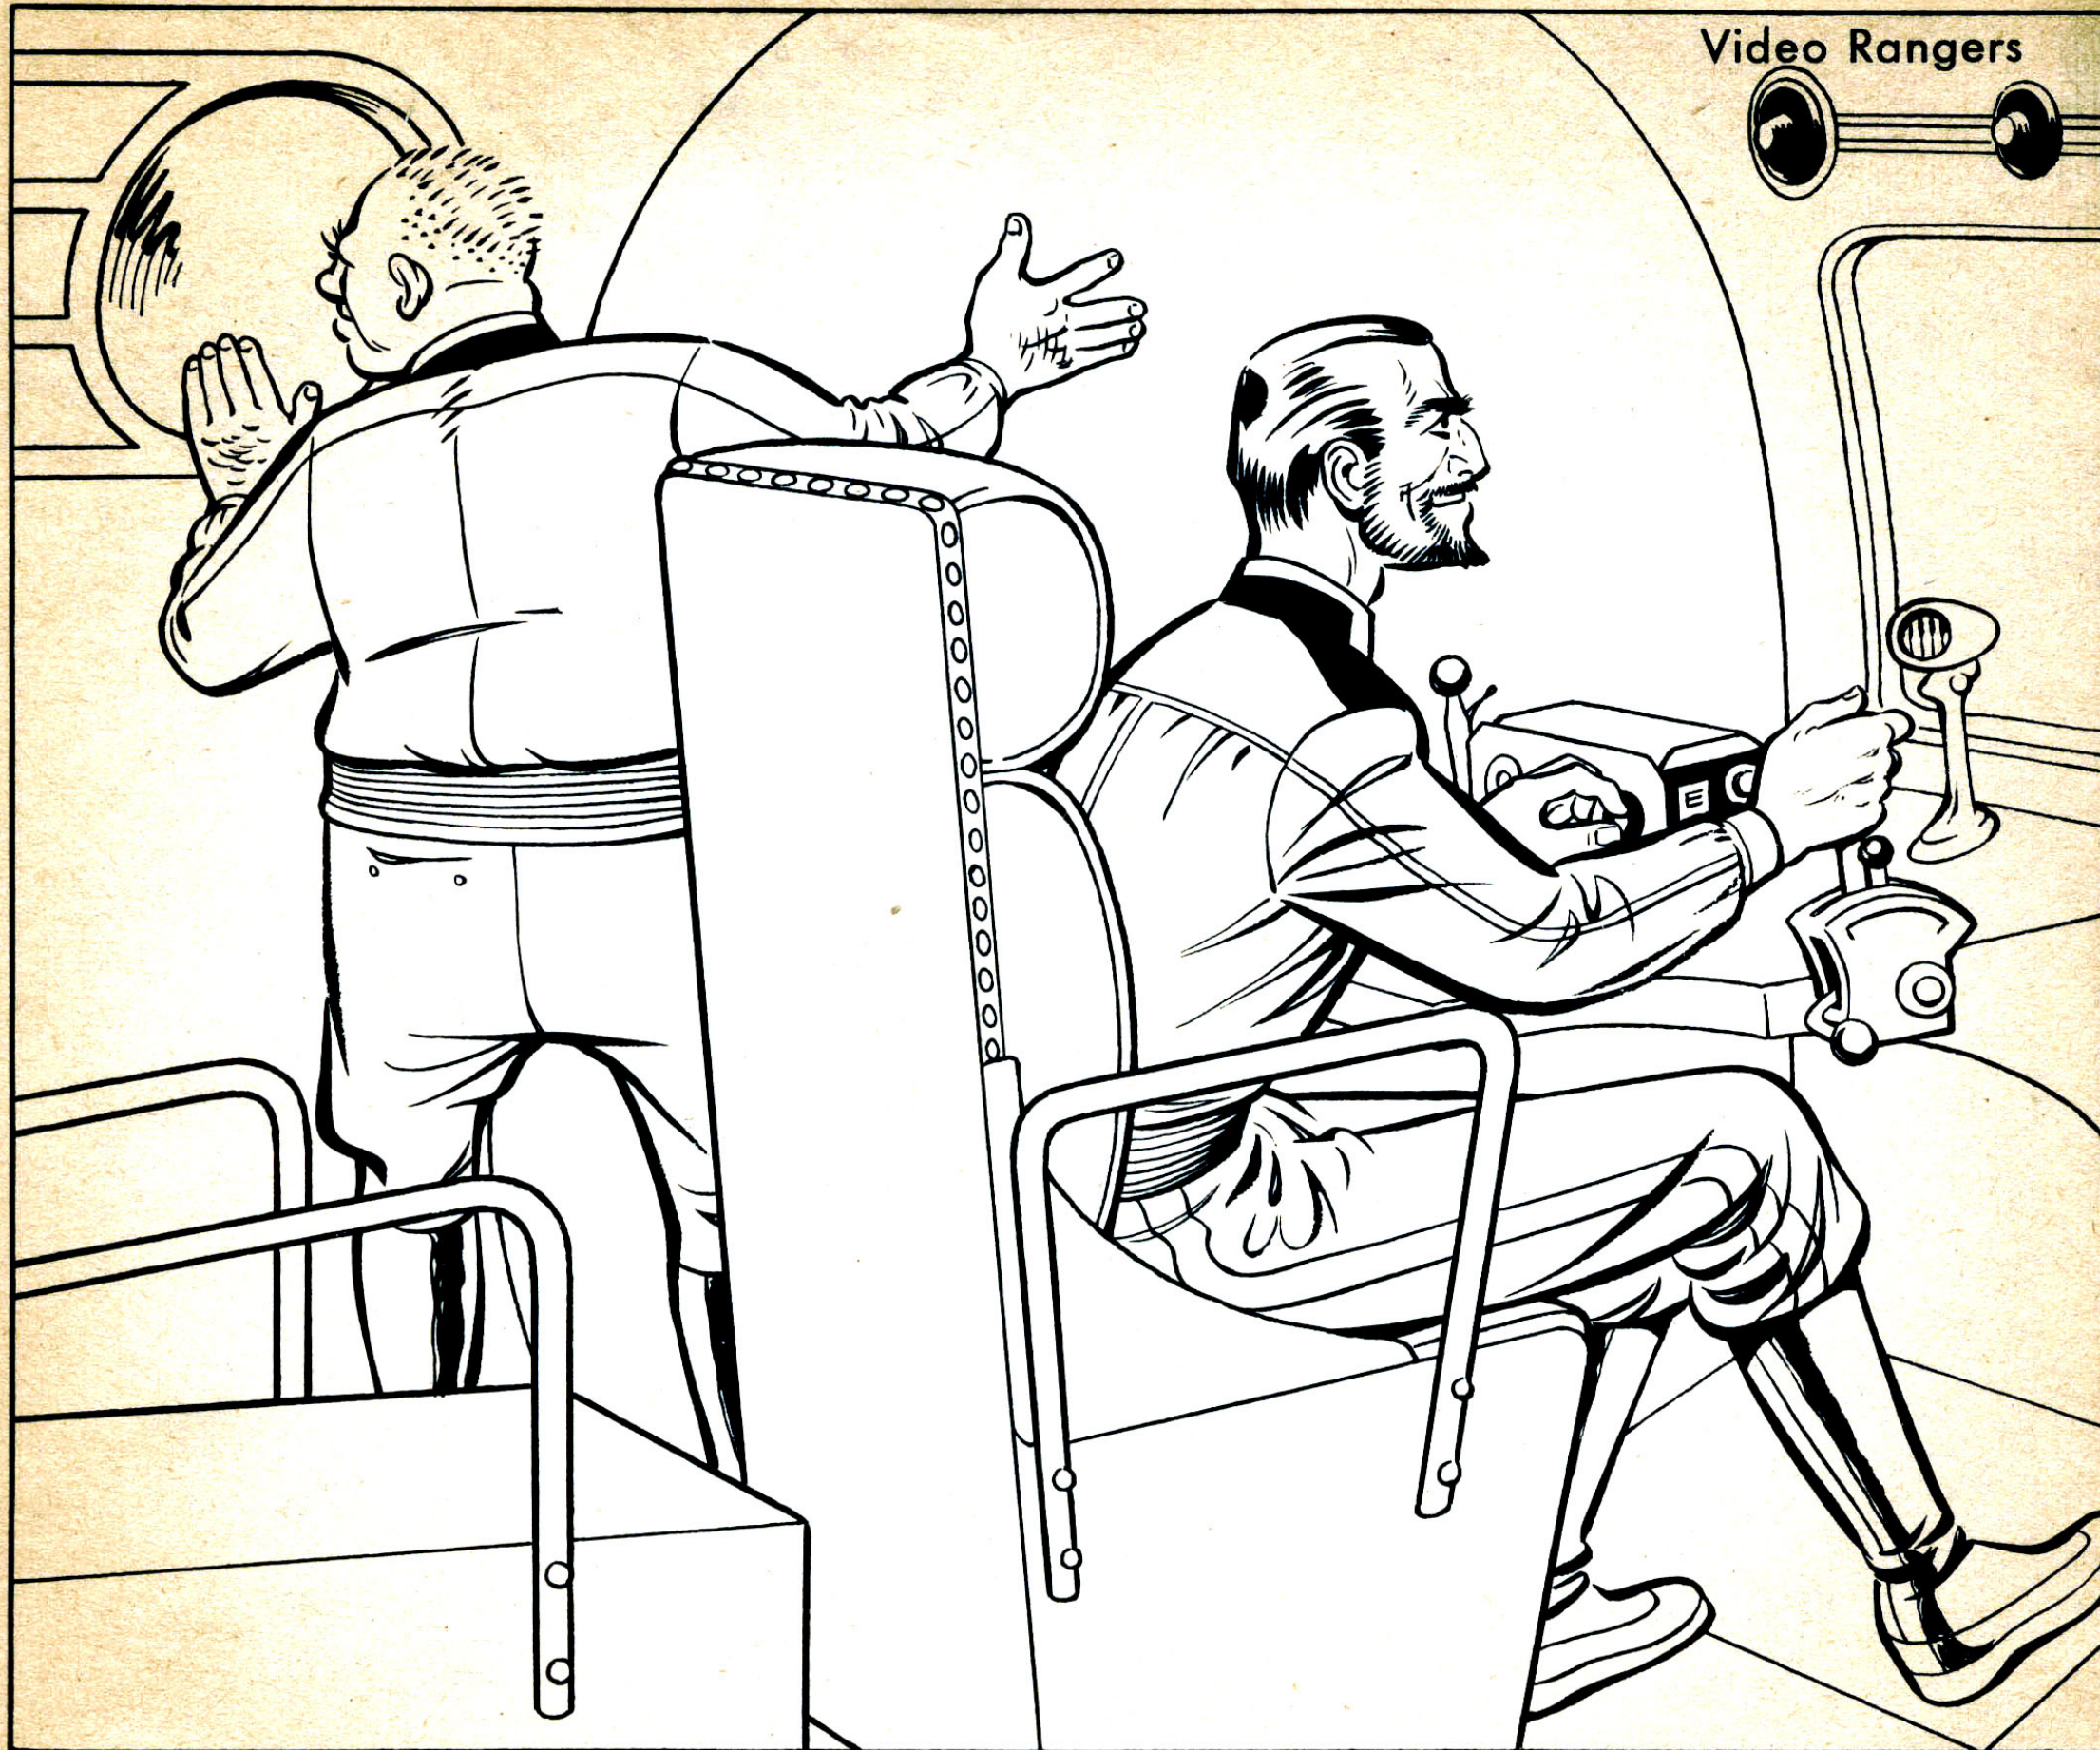

Patent Pending

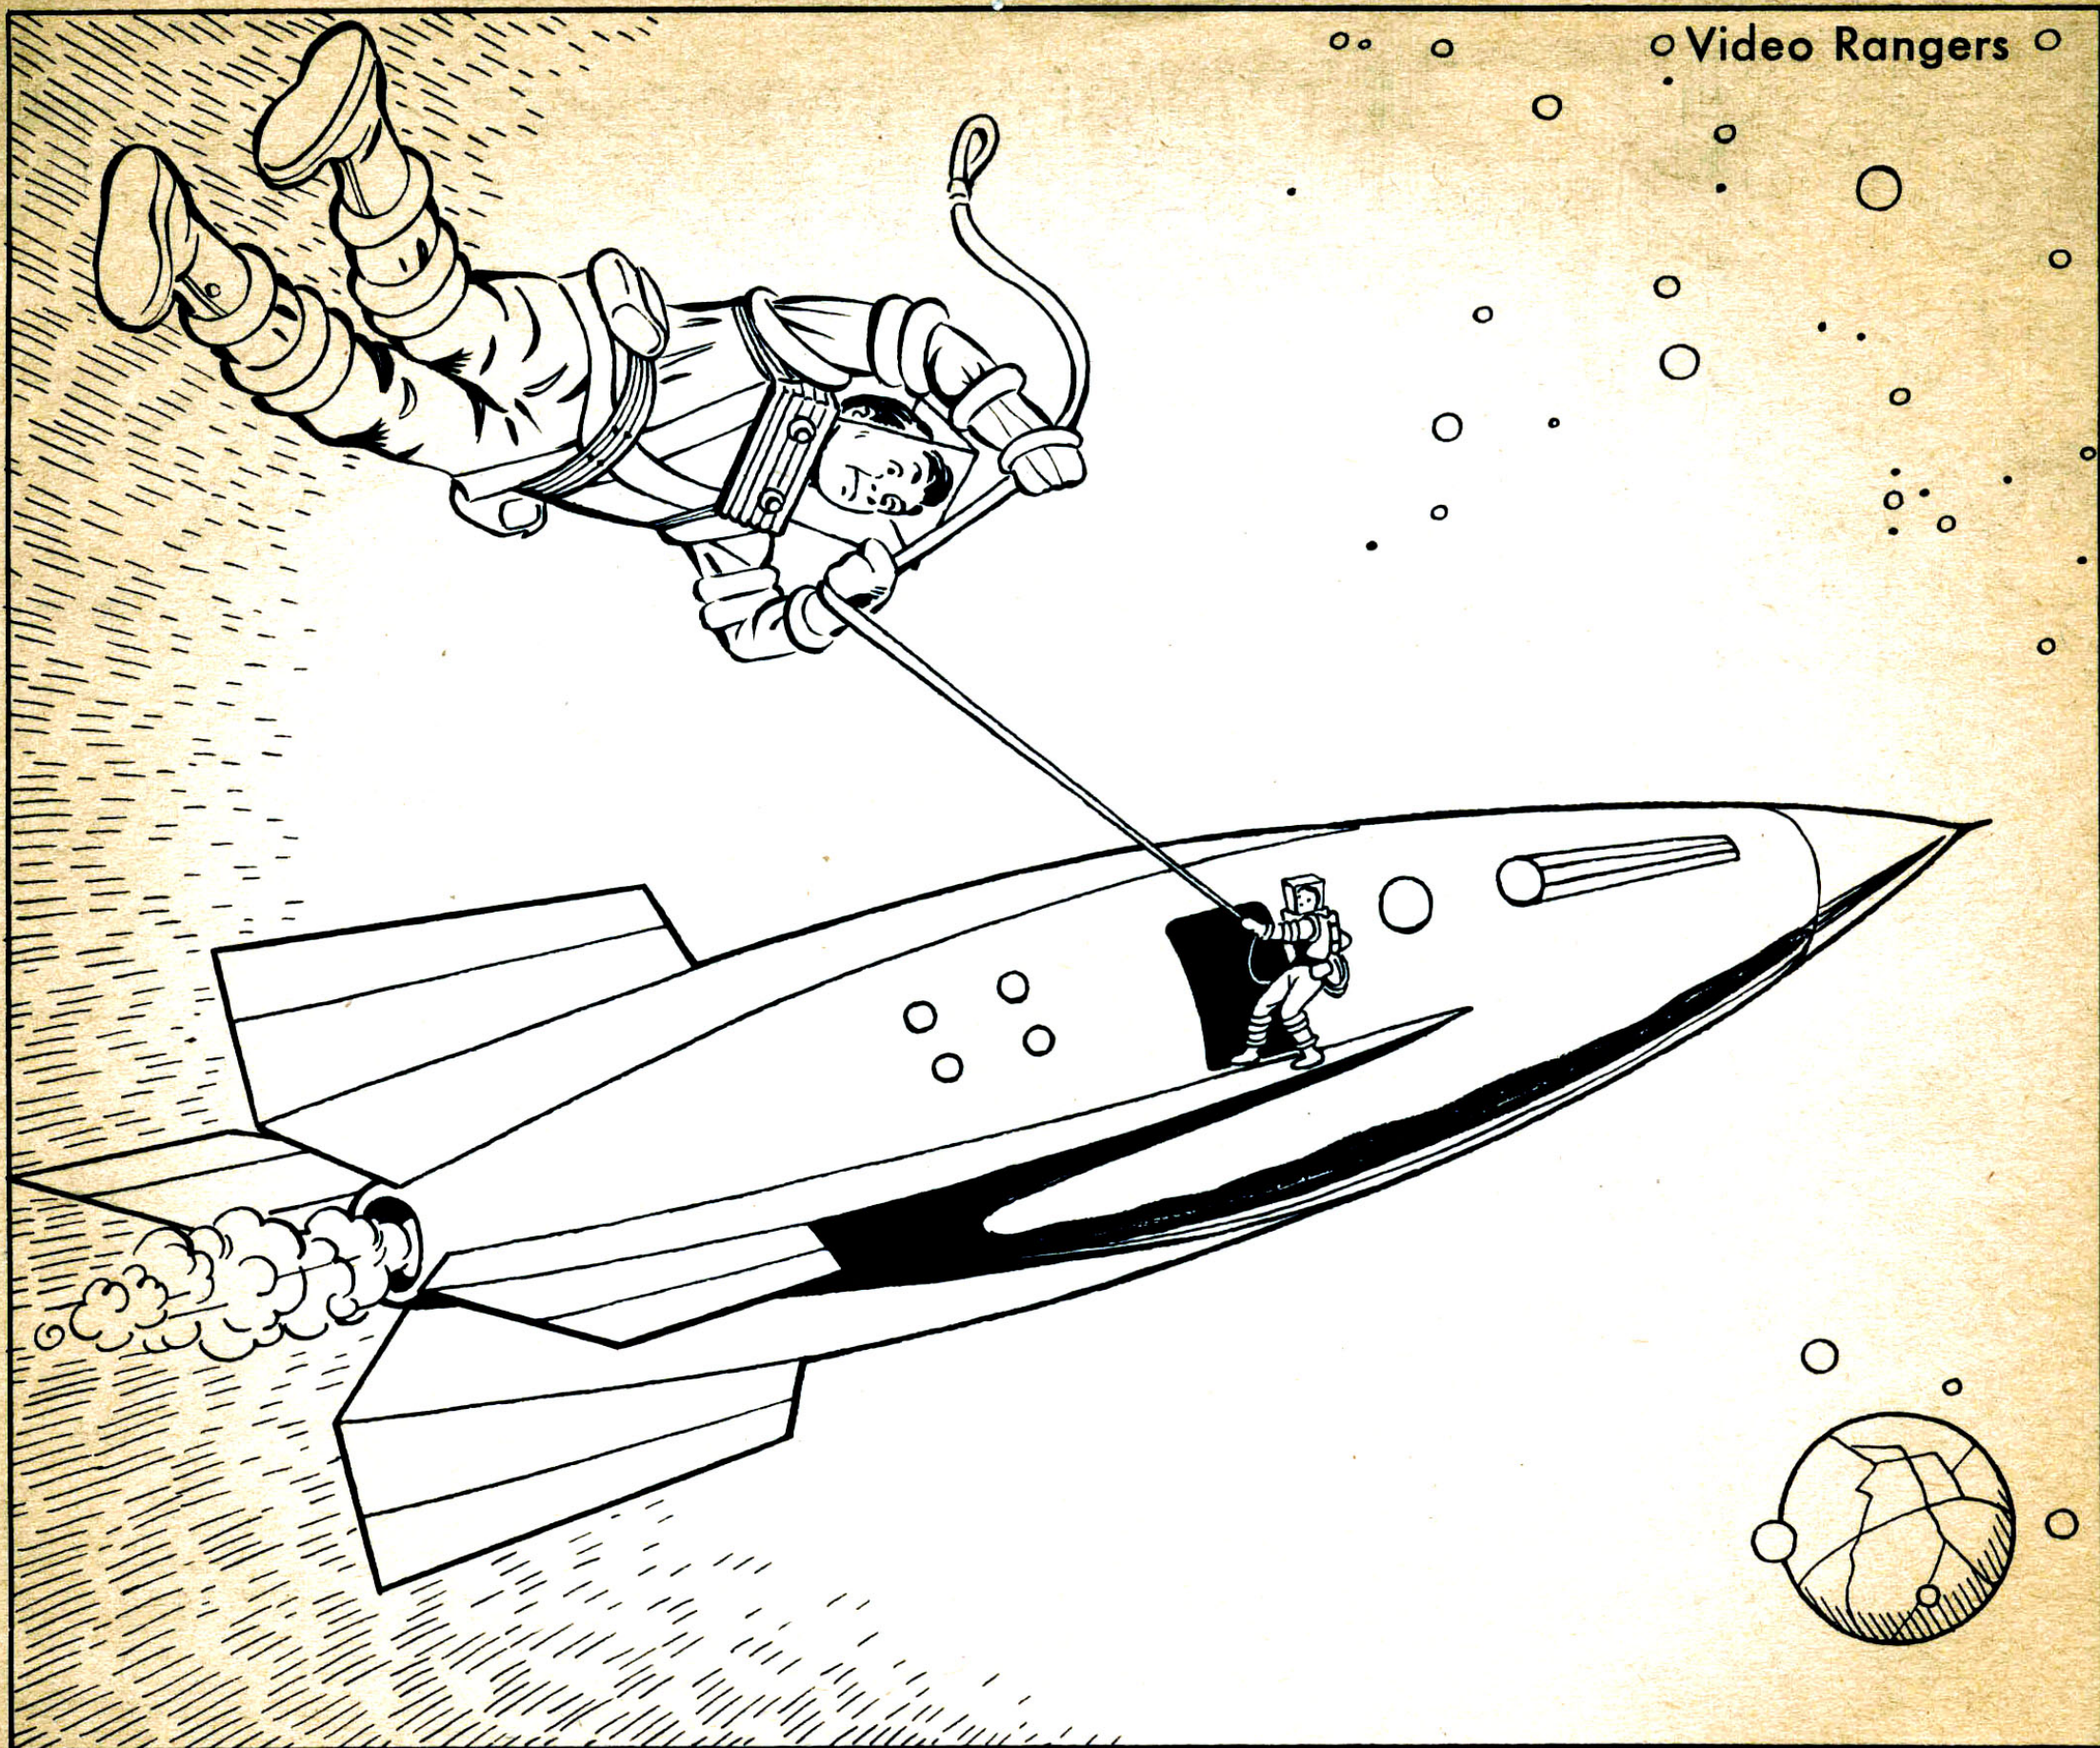

Captain Video is informed by Commissioner of Public Safety Carey that he is to move an arch criminal named Octavo and his accomplice named Finch from the Moon to a penal colony near Jupiter.

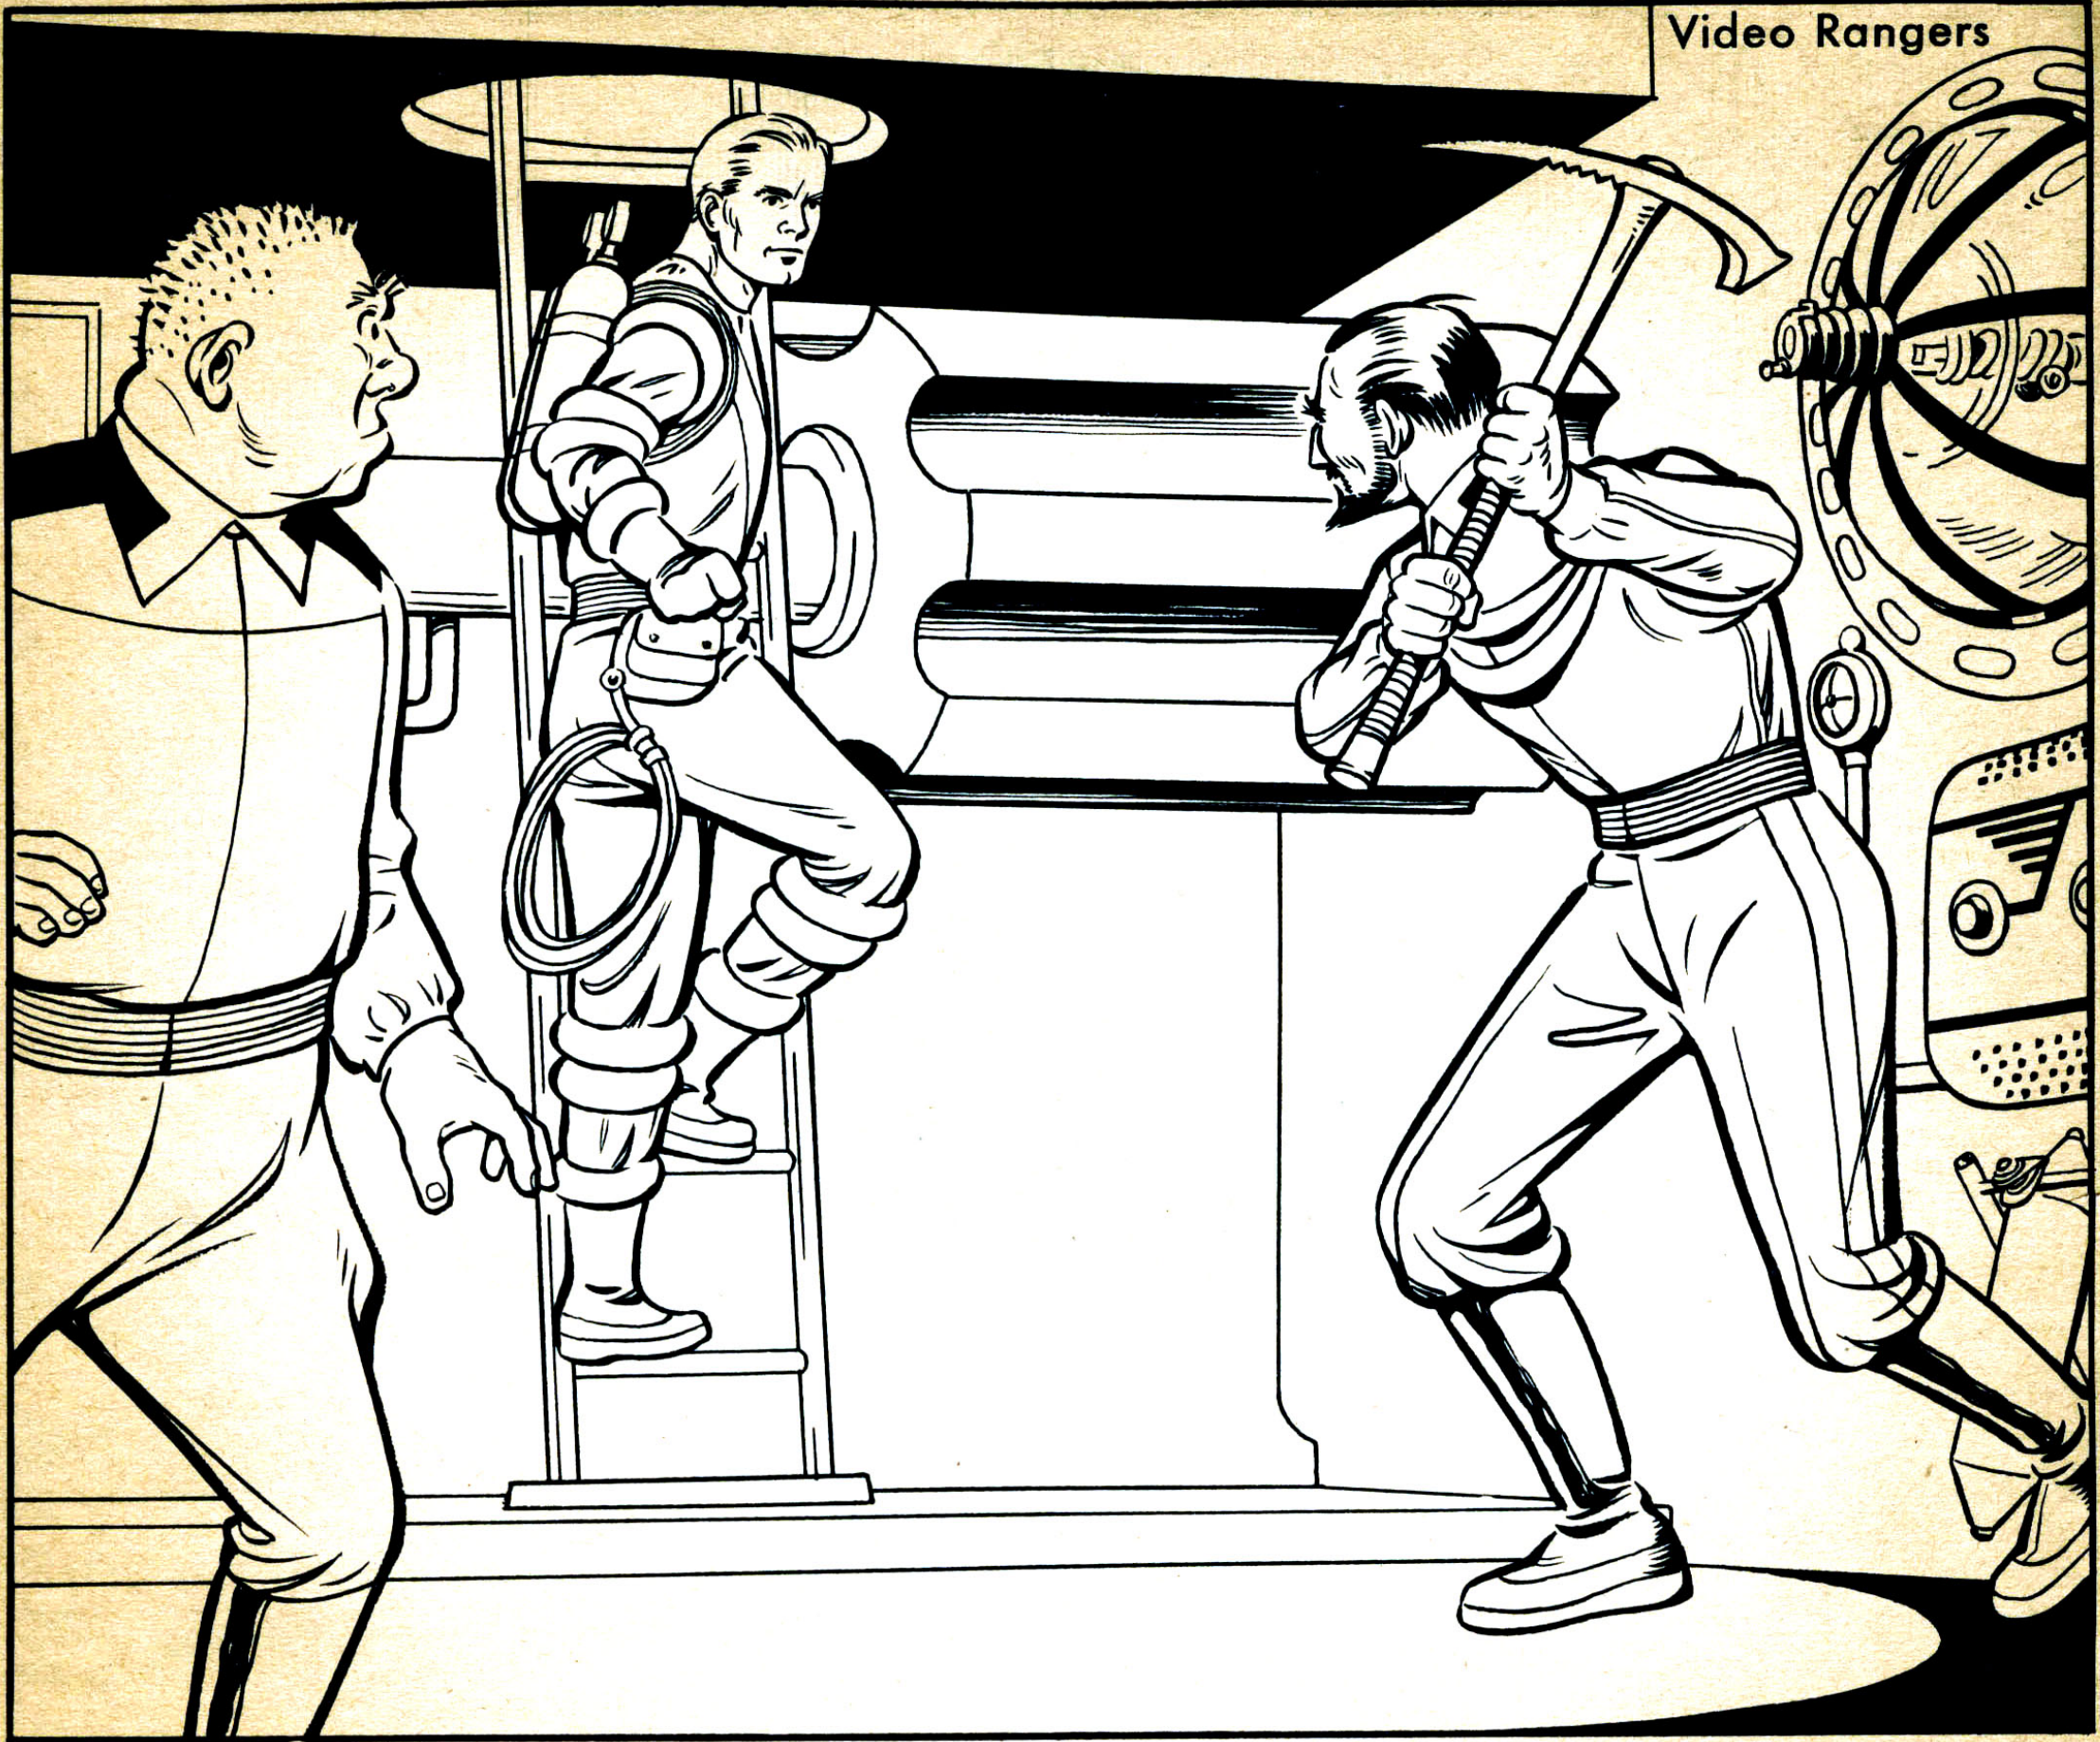

After picking up Octavo and Finch, Captain Video heads his space ship, the "Galaxy," toward Jupiter. On the way, the "Galaxy" is pelted by meteor rock.

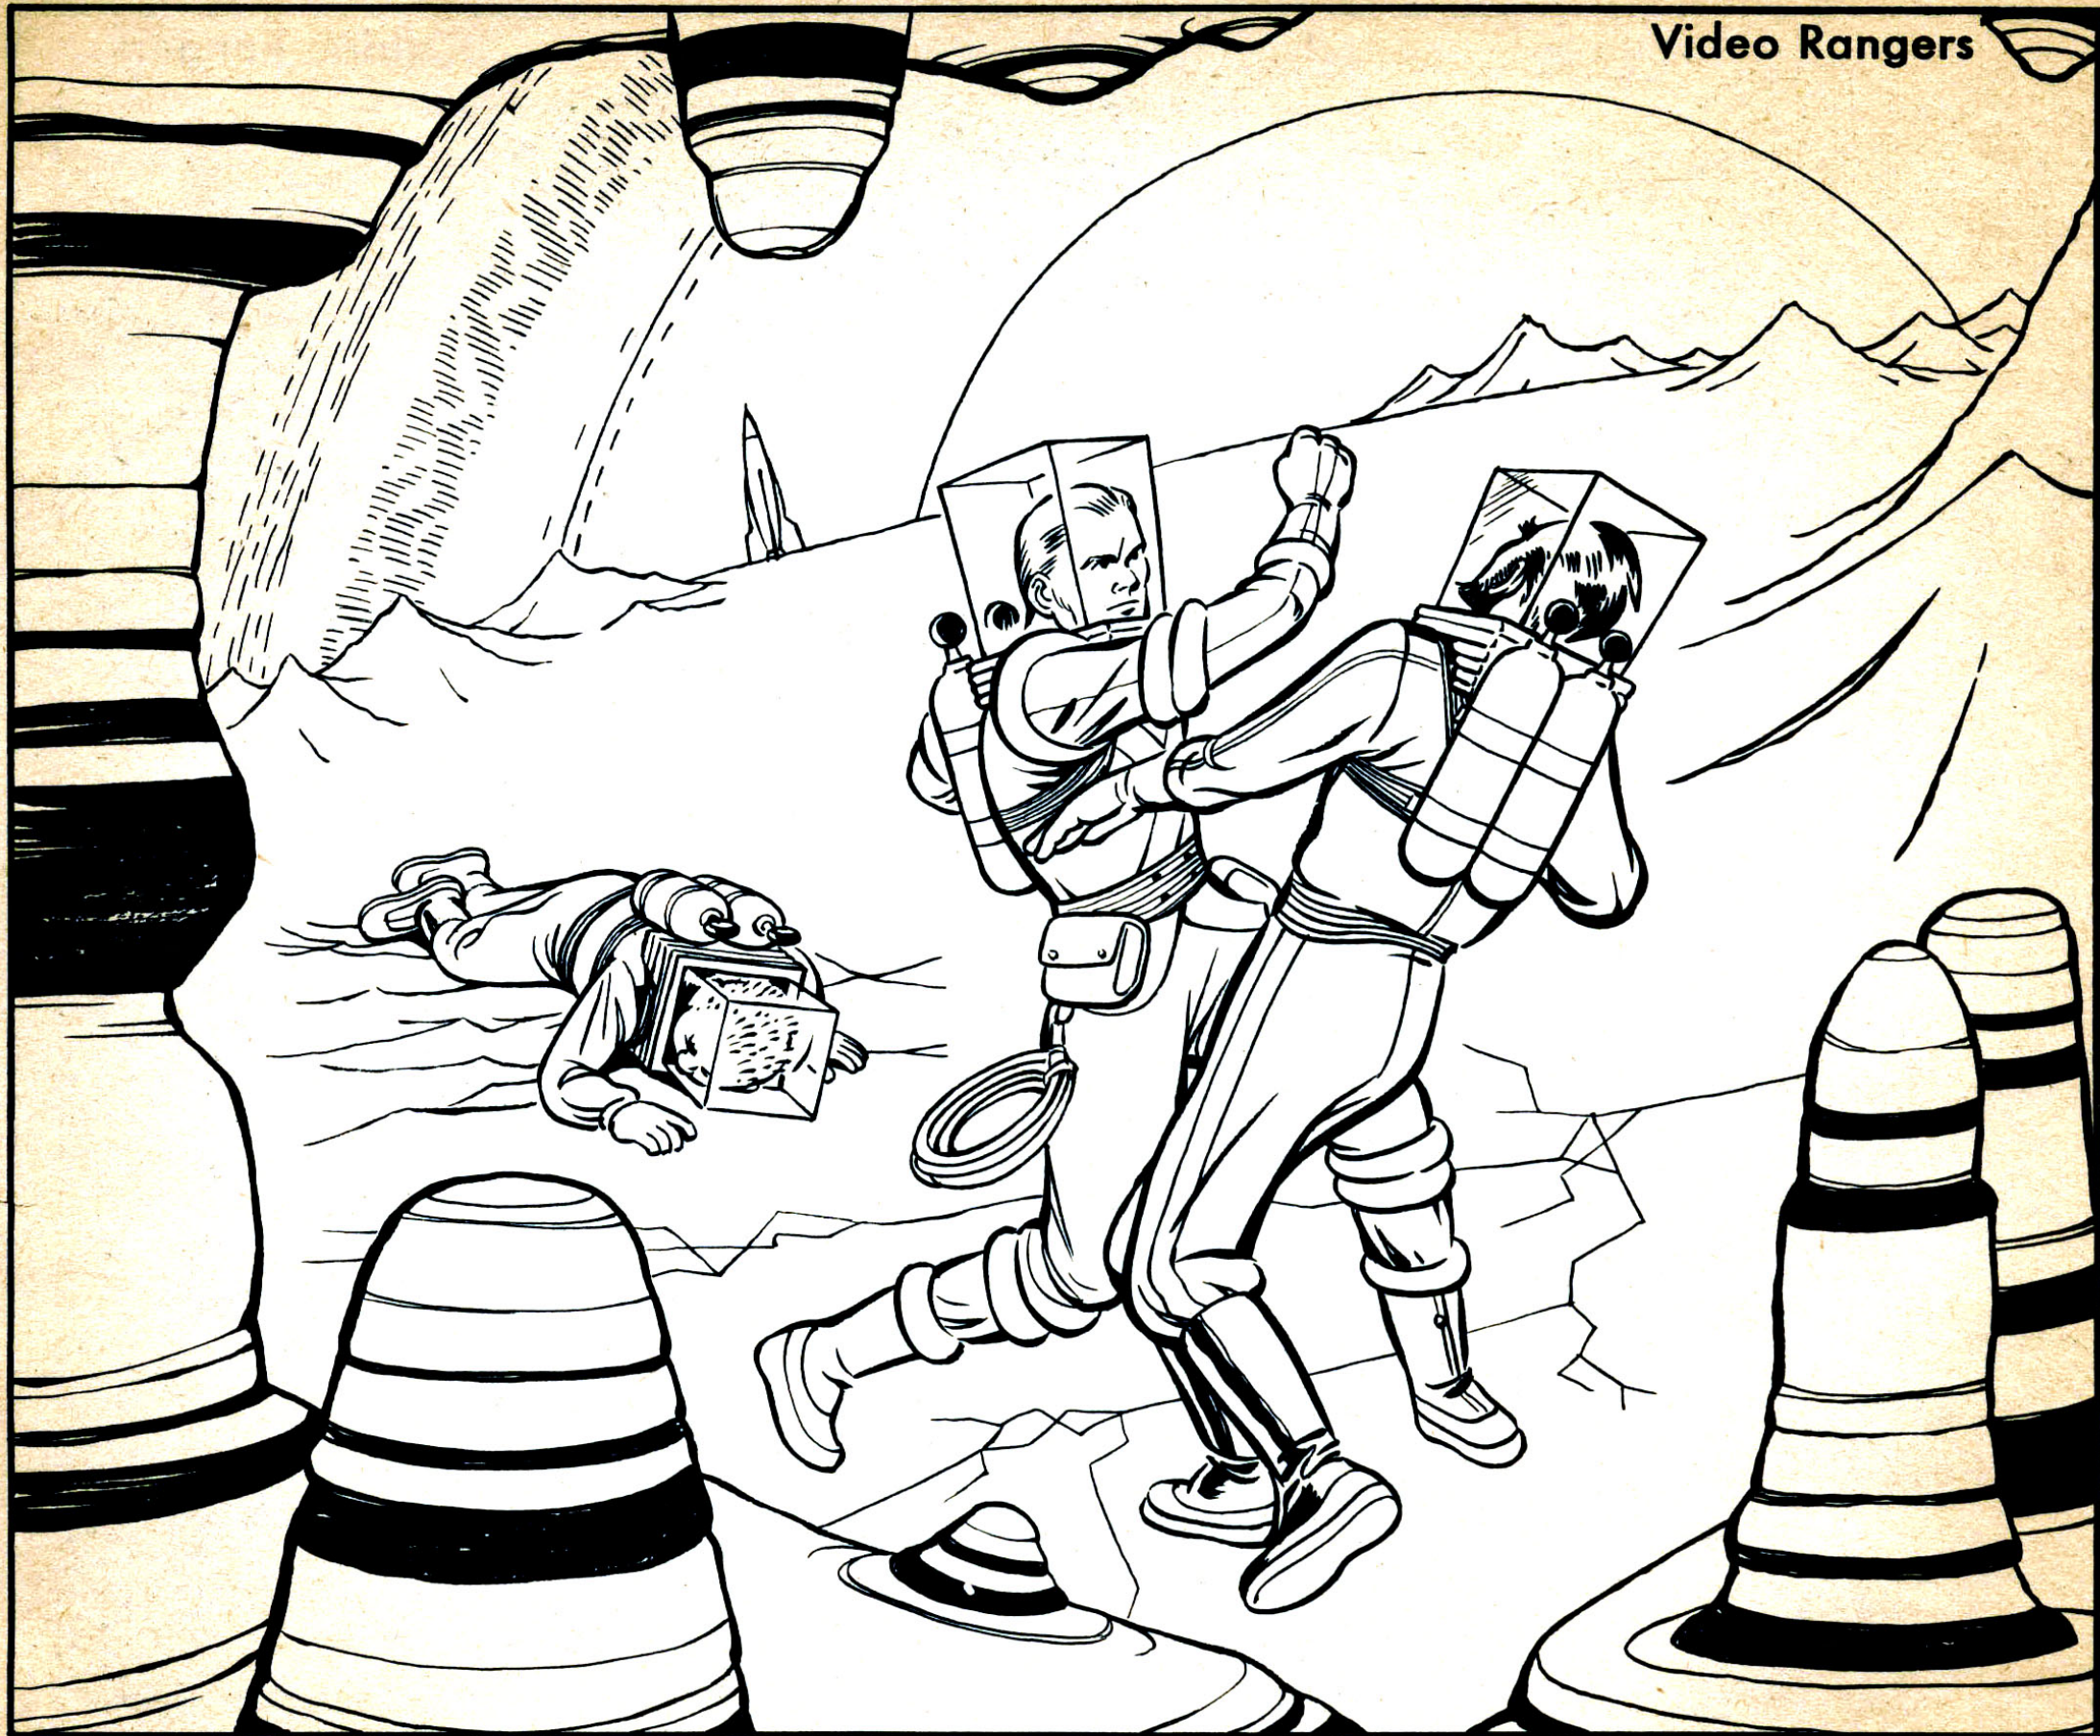

When Captain Video and the Video Ranger climb out of the ship to check damages, Octavo and Finch try to start up the "Galaxy."

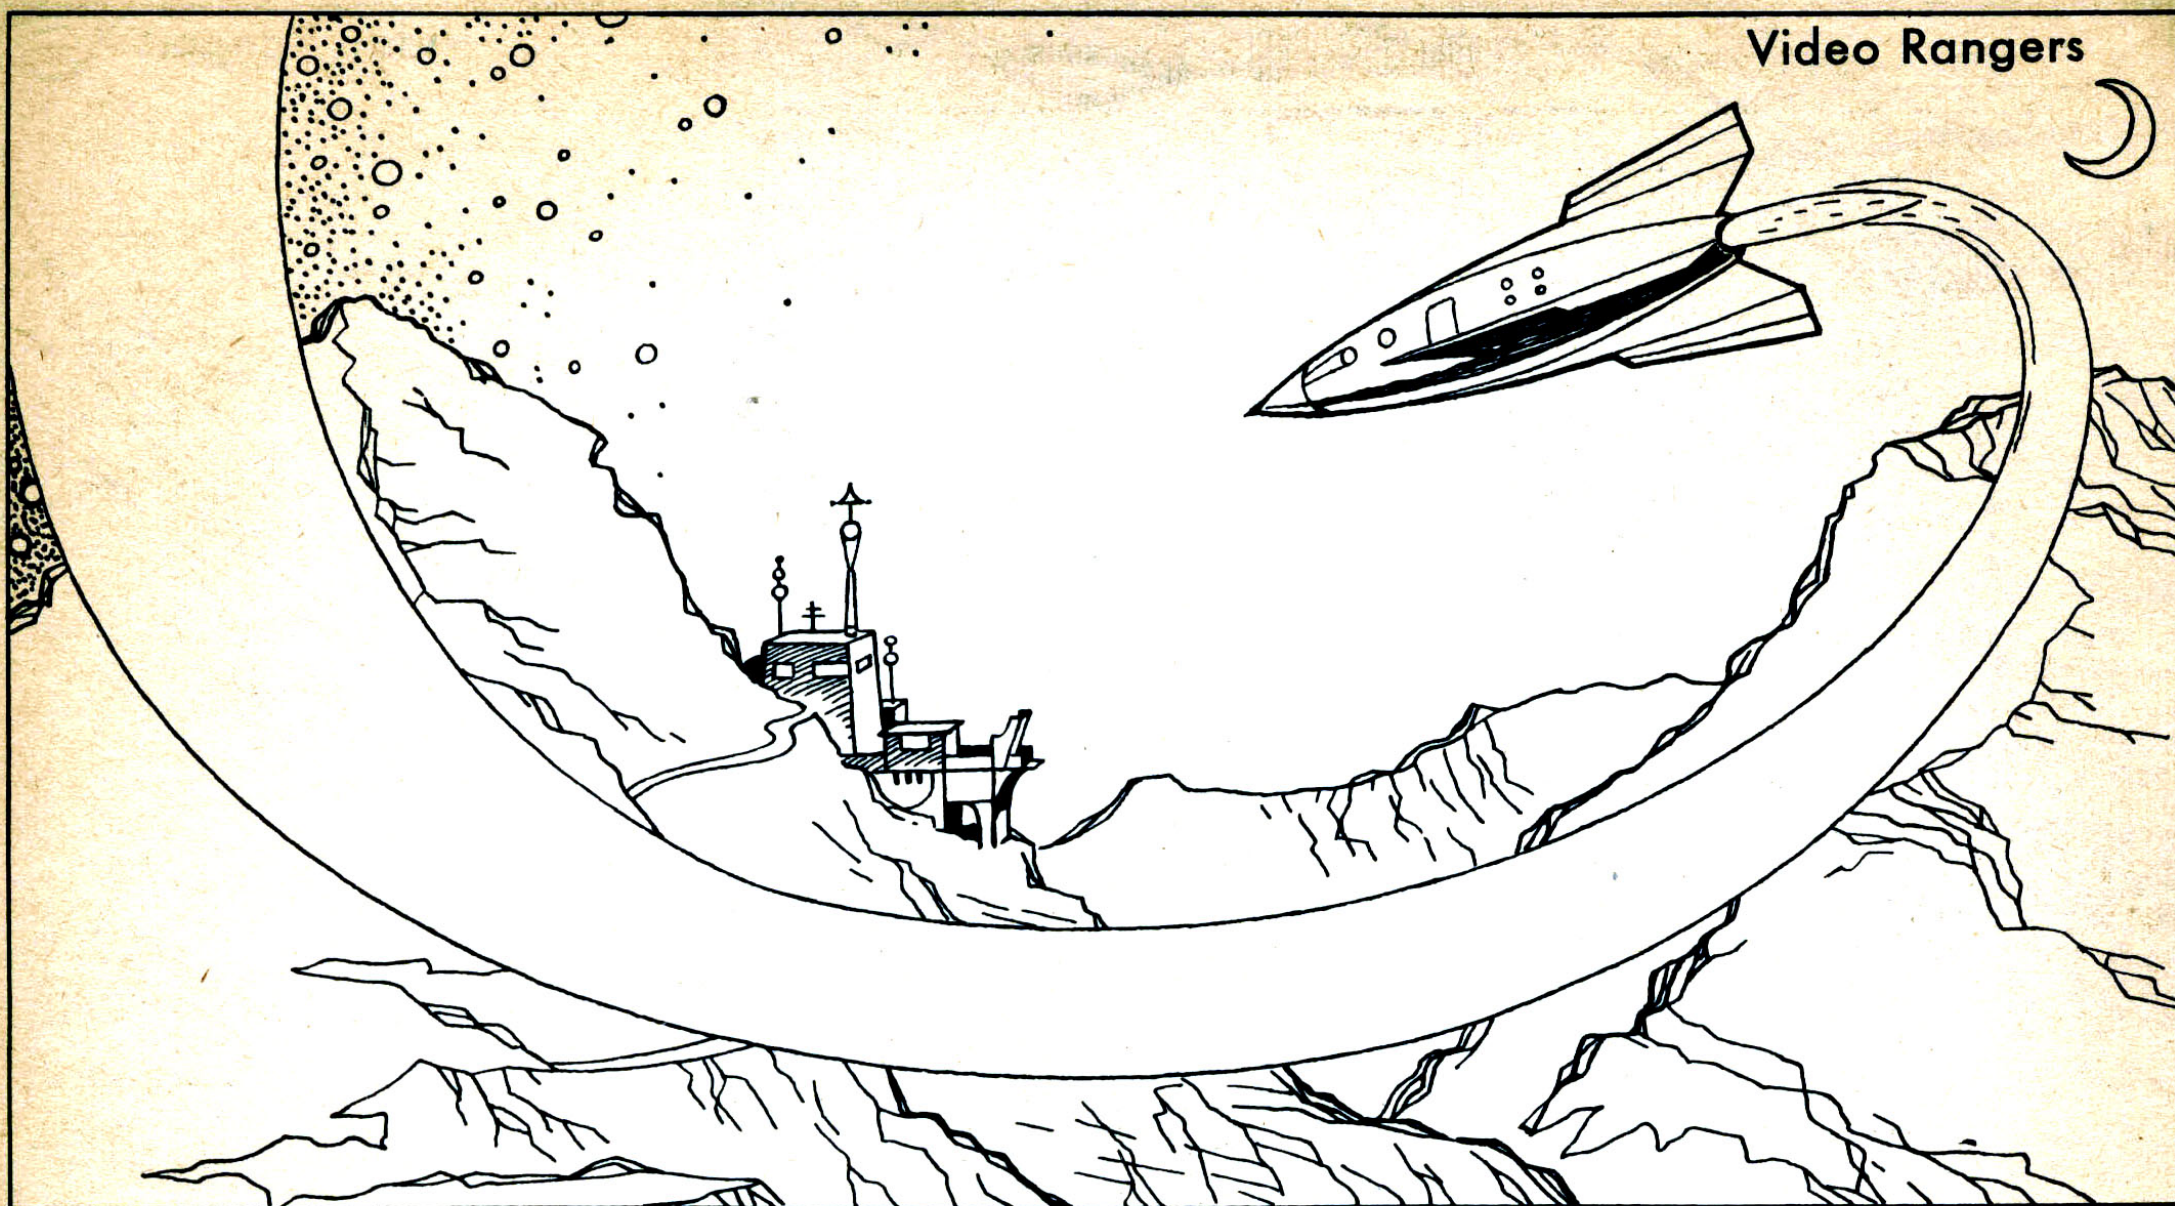

The "Galaxy" starts to move, almost leaving the Ranger behind in space, but Captain Video throws the Ranger a life line just in time.

Back inside the "Galaxy," Octavo attacks Video and the Ranger with a space-pick, but Captain Video outsmarts Octavo.

After many other adventures, including a fight on an asteroid, Captain Video completely subdues Octavo and his accomplice, Finch.

With Octavo and Finch behind bars in the penal colony, Captain Video and the Ranger return to Video's secret mountain hideaway.
